INDIVIDUAL BERTH TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Your Contract

Your contract is with TJ Sailing Limited (hereinafter referred to as 'the Company'). By paying a deposit you will be accepting these terms and conditions. The contract will be construed in accordance with English Law, and it is agreed between us that each will submit to the jurisdiction of the English Courts.

2. General

Sailing is an activity sport and the participant warrants that he/she is physically fit enough to sail. Please advise of any medical condition, the need to take prescribed medication or food allergies. Sailing can be dangerous; it is the skipper's decision whether to sail or continue to sail, and no refund will be payable should a destination not be reached.

3. Booking and Payment

Bookings will be accepted by the Company on the payment of a deposit of 25%, except that the Company reserves the right not to accept the booking. The balance is to be paid at least 4 weeks before the departure date. Deposits and any further payments will not be refundable unless the berth is resold and the Company is notified of cancellation, in writing, at least 4 weeks before the trip. The Company reserves the right to terminate anyone's participation in the trip, and may refund any monies paid on a pro rata basis, less a 10% handling charge. Onboard expenses, such as moorings, food and fuel are not included in the booking cost.

4. Non-Participation in an Event

All events are subject to demand and subject to availability. Should the Company not take part in an event due to an insufficient number of participants, the Company will advise participants and may return money already paid. The Company's liability will be limited to the amount paid by the participant. The Company reserves the right to refuse a booking should the boat be full or for any other reason.

5. Insurance

The boat and equipment are fully insured, but this does not cover cancellation, personal injury or crewmembers' personal possessions. You are advised to arrange travel insurance to cover these risks and to bring an EHIC card on cross Channel trips.

6. Late Arrivals

The Company will make every reasonable effort to accommodate late arrivals. However, if such delays inconvenience other participants, the skipper may decide to sail without the delayed crew member. In such cases no refund will be payable.

7. Crew Members' Responsibilities

Participants must:

- Ensure that any action they take does not hazard the safety of fellow participants, the skipper or the yacht
- Observe the rules of Customs and Excise and Port Authorities to which they become subject, including carrying an appropriate passport/visa on cross Channel trips
- Observe standards of personal conduct that will not be considered offensive by other participants.

Should anyone's behaviour be unacceptable, particularly with regard to safety, the Company reserves the right to terminate his or her participation in the event.

8. Cancellation

Should the intended boat not be available, the Company will make every reasonable effort to secure a replacement. If this is not successful and the event or part of the event has to be cancelled, a refund may be payable; any refund will be limited to the amount of money paid in respect of that event. Participants are advised to take out appropriate insurance.

9. Force Majeure

Neither party shall be liable if prevented from fulfilling any of its obligations by an incident of Force Majeure including an Act of God, strikes, lock out, an act of Government or any other occurrence beyond their control.
